

Sailing Down East

A voyage along the coast of New England from Connecticut to Maine

Damian and Joyce Greene

In June and July 2017, Damian and Joyce Greene sailed their Sabre 38 from Essex, Connecticut to their home port of Bass Harbor, Maine. Their 320 mile route took them via Rhode Island, through the Cape Cod Canal, across Boston Bay, past New Hampshire, and along the rocky coast of Maine.

On the way, they encountered sunshine, fog, fireworks, spectacular scenery, dozens of lighthouses, many thousands of lobster pots, and learned the value of a good insurance policy.

1930 for 2000 hours, Monday 05 March 2018
at UTMYC, Sonning

